Labor Government in Dilemma As Miners Demand More Meat

Canada Said Free Of London 'Orbit'

LONDON, (CP)—Pravda, the official Russian newspaper, said today that the "military agreement" between the United States and Canada finally excludes this distant dominion from the political orbit of London.

"The editorial, which did not say to what military agreement it was referring, was a commentary on Commerce Secretary Wallace's New York speech last Thursday.

At Ottawa, external affairs and defense officials declined to comment on the Moscow broadcast. It was assumed in unofficial circles that the agreement referred to could only be the permanent joint defense board—an arrangement which has been in effect for several years.

Turkish Armenia Asks For Transfer

By E. YAPUO

PARIS, (CP)—The committee for the defense of the cause of Turkish Armenia has addressed an appeal to the League of Nations national delegations at the Paris conference, stating that the Turkish yoke has not grown meaner, the Armenian state lands definitely be torn from the Turkish yoke and incorporated into the much too small Transcaucasian Armenia. It is in Transcaucasian Armenia that the Armenian national culture industry have developed, the committee said.

The memorandum asks that the problem of Armenia be put on the agenda of the Luxembourg peace meeting. It recalls the actions of the United States, French and British governments, particularly that of the United States, which has been a commendation for the return to the Armenian people of the four Turkish vilayets (provinces) of Van, Bitlis, Erzurum and Trabzon. In this region, the memorandum states, Armenians are working and living around "the holy, historic and legendary Mount Ararat."

The committee, which is headed by a number of well-known Armenian writers in France, has the support of French professors of the Sorbonne and journalists. It stresses that 300,000 Armenians, including 60,000 soldiers, fought in the war with the Russian army, while the 100,000 fought with the British, Canadian and French forces. Little inclination has so far been noticed among the peace conference delegations to sponsor the Armenian demands. The Armenian leaders emphasize that their program is based on the principle of self-determination and has nothing to do with Soviet territorial demands in Turkey. Signers of the memorandum view the belief that the centre of Armenian national life has shifted to Transcaucasian Soviet Armenia as a "serious mistake" from which they are repudiating.

The Armenian Soviet republic has sponsored the Armenian cause throughout the Middle East to repatriate Armenians, including transportation and housing grants, if necessary. A considerable number of nationals has been taking place.

LONDON, (CP)—The miners, whose efforts at keeping the nation's coal supply steady will be the most important factor in this country's production battle for a coal shortage, are not satisfied with their own lot.

But their demands have not been loudly voiced. But they have not been loudly voiced. But they have not been loudly voiced. But they have not been loudly voiced. But they have not been loudly voiced.

Box score, to date, of the campaign against the coal shortage.

1. Miners, who know they hold the whiphand right now, are determined to get more meat. At present, in common with other heavy workers, they are confined to a diet of extra ounces of beef, a little extra milk and they get the standard civilian meat ration of 28 cents' worth per week.

Sold on case

2. Paul Minister Emmanuel Shinn, whose whole political future depends on his ability to provide the nation with enough coal this winter, has been sold on this case and is supporting their demand.

The Trades Union congress, executive, which has to take into account the views of all the powerful unions affiliated to it, is also sold on this case. It is agreed to support the miners, the problem is how to do it.

Sitting on fence

4. British food minister, John Strachey, who would have to administer the extra miners' meat ration, is not granted to sit on the fence — waiting it will make the minister's job. The Trades Union congress is making it clear that if the congress approves the extra ounces of meat, it is well known that the German miners for larger rations than any other class of workers in the country.

Ex-Vichy Head Petain Lives In Lonely, Comfortable Exile

By Geoffrey Fraser

PARIS, (NANA)—It is indeed a difficult job nowadays to catch a glimpse of Henri Philippe Petain, the former marshal of France and chief of the puppet Vichy state.

He is housed in a daisied fort on the tiny, wind-swept, sea-beaten island of Yeu. The only other dwellers on the island are poor fishermen and the ex-marshall's military guards.

But, cigarettes being scarce on the island, there are ways and means of getting around them. Petain is able to get cigarettes, and particularly puffed, and fetch about 10 cents apiece. Having distributed 100 cigarettes and being armed with good army binoculars, he is able to see the white-haired Petain, in a grey civilian suit, holding his pipe and erect despite the old years, tramping around and about the island.

Three-room Suite

He has a three-room apartment on the second floor, his windows overlooking the courtyard. The rooms are simply, not to say sparsely, furnished; but central heating and a bathroom were installed especially for him. The latter he occupies once a week. He also has a radio set which he switches on frequently.

From the officer commanding the fort, Petain has only three visitors: the island priest who has his occasional professional calls and reads mass for him on Sundays; his wife, and the island doctor who calls daily.

Many Admirers

There is no doubt that a very large number of Frenchmen idolize the former marshal, and the

Report Threshing Lags in Alberta

CALGARY, (CP)—Alberta is well ahead with cutting the heavy 1944 crop but far behind in threshing. The Alberta Wheat Pool said Monday in its weekly crop report. Roughly 70 per cent of the grain has been cut—about as much as last year at this time, but only 24 percent of the wheat and 20 percent of the coarse grains have been threshed or combined.

Widespread damp weather which struck Alberta over the week-end will further delay the harvest. Grain is in the process of drying for threshing but it is fit for cutting almost as soon after a rain as the machinery is able to operate.

"The quality of the grain has been affected by unfavorable weather conditions. There would appear to be considerable light weight wheat and consequently weight will be a factor in grading."

"Frost has caused serious damage and recent rains have caused bleaching in parts of southern and central Alberta. A few reports state that crusting has also occurred."

A GREAT RESPONSIBILITY

With other tire plants closed down for the past two months, Dunlop is faced with the great responsibility of endeavouring to satisfy the tremendous demand for tires due to the non-production of other tire companies.

Dunlop accepts this responsibility. Confident in the consistent loyalty and productive skill of its employees with whom the friendly relations have always existed . . . possessed of the understanding and co-operation of Dunlop Dealers everywhere . . . Dunlop is bending every effort . . . concentrating every resource . . . on the production of Dunlop Tires to meet the needs of essential transportation, regular Dunlop customers and all others whom it is possible to serve through its established dealers.

TIRE SITUATION CRITICAL

No one can over-emphasize the critical shortage of tires today. And there are few signs of improvement. Even the manufacturers of new cars and trucks are obliged to ship cars and trucks without tires. It is utterly impossible for one tire plant to attempt to reasonably serve essential transportation, equip these new vehicles and to take care of consumer sales. Nevertheless, Dunlop Dealers are exercising the keenest judgment and sense of fair play in establishing equitable distribution of their very limited supplies.

Yes, in addition to being the only Tire Plant in Canada presently operating . . . in addition to the pressing demand in its efforts by shortage of essential materials, including tire fabrics, steel and other metals for tire beads, moulds, valves, etc. and other materials and equipment essential to tire building which, on account of unsettled labour conditions elsewhere, have been in short supply or not available at all. Because of these shortages, Dunlop, in spite of having been as far ahead in its raw material inventories as conditions permitted, has been unable to maintain normal production. Users of tires such as the new 6.50-15 size will thus appreciate the difficulty of getting into quantity production of this particular tire.

IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

In the face of this grave, unprecedented situation, Dunlop . . . in the public interest . . . is going beyond commercial considerations and is doing its level best to serve tire users throughout Canada. Dunlop assures you that it will continue to serve Canadians to the utmost of its ability, sparing no effort or expense. There is still great need for patience, of course, for conditions show no sign of easing. But when times return to normal . . . when present difficulties are ironed out . . . Veteran Drowns In B. C. Ramming

VANCOUVER, (CP)—A 50-year-old RCAF veteran who was drowned when his gillnet fishing boat was rammed by a British freighter in the Fraser river, has been identified as Joe Ashen-Burner, a former holder of the Canadian amateur middleweight crown.

Ashen-Burner, a native of Regina, was twice winner of the Vancouver Sun Golden Gloves middleweight title, and a former Pacific Northwest Golden Gloves winner. Ashen-Burner's nephew, Jacob Heifetz, 33, along to the chain of the freighter Port Lennox's anchor, when was dropped immediately after the accident, and was rescued. Captain Arthur Patterson of the Port Lennox, told police officer fishing vessels scattered as his ship approached, and that he did not realize Ashen-Burner's boat was not moving until it was too late to avoid ramming it.

Two Victims Die In Arkansas Fire

HOOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Great Northern hotel fire claimed its second life Sunday—that of a 17-year-old bride of two weeks.

Mr. Martha Adams, student at Henderson State Teachers college, Arkadelphia, died of burns she received in the blaze that destroyed the 50-year-old, 73-room brick building early Saturday.

John Baum, 31, of Detroit, fell from a third-story window ledge while firemen were trying to save him and died of his injuries.

Phelan Named Head
Of Labor Office

MONTREAL, (CP)—Acting Director Edward J. Phelan Monday was appointed director of the International Labor Office at the 96th session of the governing body of the International Labor Organization held here.

Mr. Phelan has been acting director of the office since early 1941, when John G. Winant retired as director to become United States ambassador to the United Kingdom.

Favors Removal Lumber Ceilings

OTTAWA, (CP)—E.W. Stacey of Edmonton, president of the Western Retail Lumbermen's association, Monday conferred with prices board officials and Timber Controller Terence F. Plaffin in an effort to obtain an equitable distribution of available lumber supplies and re-adjustment of price disparities.

However, he reported the conversations so far had negligible results.

He said "great pressure" was being exerted by members of the Western Retail Lumbermen's association on the executive officers and directors to get them some lumber. The 200,000 pounds of the prices normally served by the 1,500 retail lumber dealers of that area could not continue to go without lumber—especially at this time of year.

"If reasonable supplies of the kind and quality of lumber cannot be secured other than by removal of price control, we urge its removal," he said.

Jap Says Prisoners 'Began to Hate Me'

HONG KONG, (Reuters)—Japanese interpreter Nimori Genji, before a war crimes court on night charges of atrocious treatment of Canadian prisoners, said the case for the defense Sunday with a shower of excuses that any slapping, kicking or other ill-treatment was carried out "on orders."

In perfect English, after taking the Christian oath, Nimori said: "I was only a civilian interpreter and there is no truth in the allegation that I held the honorary rank of major."

He denied killing and punishing four members of the Winnipeg Grenadiers, Sgt. J. O. Payne, Pte. J. Ellis, Pte. J. H. Adams and Pte. C. J. Berzansky, who escaped from Shamshuipo camp during the last 20 years, there had been in Canada a 100 per cent increase in the consumption of hard liquor, 26 per cent increase for beer, and 36 per cent increase for wine. There was more drinking at present than in the past 50 years.

At the beginning of the war the United Church will be called upon to practice total abstinence and to abstain from drinking alcohol or other drugs containing beverage alcohol, a member of its council, it was stated in a report presented by Rev. J. M. McIntyre of Toronto, secretary of the board of evangelism and social service.

Say Liquor Sales Hit All-time High

MONTREAL, (CP)—The liquor traffic—the for all the church traffic—was reported Sunday by the liquor sales totalling $27,000,000, was reported Sunday by Rev. John Coburn of Toronto, an executive of the United Church of Canada.

During the same period, added Mr. Coburn, 100 per cent increase in liquor sales was reported by the churches for religious education, and yet the country could afford to pay for it.

A survey had shown that in the last 20 years, there had been in Canada a 100 per cent increase in the consumption of hard liquor, 26 per cent increase for beer, and 36 per cent increase for wine. There was more drinking at present than in the past 50 years.

Canada's Tourist Revenue Said Equal to Wheat Value

HALIFAX, (CP)—An estimated 22,000,000 tourists, mostly from the United States, had spent approximately $23,000,000 in Canada during this year's tourist season. Dr. Leo Walsh of Ottawa, chief of the Canadian Travel Bureau, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers association Friday. That amount closely approached the total value of wheat exports.

"Canada has given the best tourist season in its post-war history. But next year the industry is going to be intensely competitive and I urge you editors of your newspapers, to drive for a strengthening of Canada."

Speaking before the 300 delegates of the convention—the C.W.A.'s 27th—Mr. Walsh said Canada must improve her hotel system and highways.

"The weekly newspapers of Canada represent the greatest force in the domination for tourists of the future. Urge your readers to clean house for the tourist trade, and of vital concern to every Canadian. Form tourist camps and sell your region. And not only people of other countries, but we ourselves must know Canada better."

"You can make the word unity."

What kind of a city is WINNIPEG?

What makes Winnipeggers the way they are? Talk to anyone from that great prairie city of 309,000, and right away you can tell they're from Winnipeg — and proud of it! Although most of the people are of British stock, there are thousands of foreign origin, such as Polish, Czechs, etc. This week's Standard tells you in an exciting photostory how and why many nationalities have learned to live together as friends and neighbours. They're so busy being Canadians in general and Winnipeggers in particular they haven't time for petty squabbles. Read how the Grain City is planning for sound, healthy growth, expanding markets, and a new era of prosperity. The bottom may fall out of the thermometer in the winter, and the top blow off in the summer, but Winnipeg proves that it's not the weather — it's the people that count!

The Life of a B.C. FRUIT FARMER ...

It sounds like the kind of life most of us dream of living, at some time or other. With 80 acres of rich orchard and farm land set in the B.C. fruit rancher lives a hard life but a happy one. Read the picture story in The Standard this week of Bill Osborne and his family's fascinating way of living. You'll be envious of the beautiful scenery, the outdoors, and fascinated by the healthy, outdoor life of this happy, independent Okanagan fruit rancher.

U.S. and the World

Mr. Henry Wallace, secretary of commerce at Washington, opened the election campaign for his party by a speech at New York. The speech was said to have been approved by President Truman, and to have been a major pronouncement on foreign policy. But this, the President says, was a misunderstanding.

Among others of less moment Mr. Wallace laid down two principles which he thought should form the basis of United States policy abroad.

"1. We should recognize that we have no more business in the political affairs of eastern Europe than Russia has in the political affairs of Latin America, western Europe and the United States.

"2. The British Nuremberg policy in the Near East alone, combined with Russian retaliation, could lead the United States straight to war unless we have a clearly defined and reasonable policy in the Near East.

This could be interpreted as a new call to isolationism, and from an unexpected quarter. It does not at all sound like the language of Mr. Wallace, who has been a major proponent of internationalism. It seems to suggest the withdrawal of active American interest and influence from the shaping of international relations in Europe, and to suggest spheres in which the United States has no rightful concern.

If it is what Mr. Wallace meant to propose, he made an unfortunate statement regarding eastern Europe as one area in which his country had no business to concern itself with international affairs. For eastern Europe within this last generation has bred two wars which have cost the United States hundreds of thousands of lives and untold billions of dollars.

World War I was touched off at Sarajevo, a village in Yugoslavia; and the United States was drawn into the struggle against it. World War II occurred because Hitler aimed to take over the lands of Poland, Ukraine, the Danubian States and the Balkans; and again the United States was drawn in by Pearl Harbor.

Eastern Europe was the theatre of one area in which the United States has historic reasons and perfect right to exert itself in the rectification of boundaries and the establishment of a just and lasting peace. A striking illustration as well of the futility of supposing there can be safety for any country in a policy of aloofness.

It had been said many times by Americans that World War II would not have happened if the United States had not withdrawn from World Affairs. The fact of World War I, but had put its tremendous strength and not less remarkable influence behind the League of Nations. Certainly the world needs a stronger League of Nations than seven years ago that that strength and that influence be actively exerted in laying the foundation conditions of peace wherever these need be.

Nor is there any longer such a thing as security for any country in dissociating itself from theatres where war may break out. For, whatever the cause, war has been in an earlier age, peace now is "one and indivisible."

A Practical Inducement

There are not enough school teachers in Alberta, more than 500 few in fact. To draw recruits into the ranks the department of education is offering to remit registration and students' fees to those who enter the faculty of education at the University who enroll in courses which lead to junior, elementary and intermediate teaching certificates.

The period of training for one of these certificates is a year, and this entitles the holder to teach grade 7 to 10 for a year of three years. The plan is to cancel one-third of the training fees each year. To square up his account a student would thus be required to teach for full three year term. This offer should prove attractive to young men and women who want to enter the teaching profession but who find the qualifying course too long and too costly. It may attract some also who, with other ultimate aims in view, are willing to teach for a time in junior and intermediate classrooms for the sake of the experience which can thus be gained.

It will be fortunate if this or other inducements a larger number of students can be got to teach for a few years in public schools. Fortunate for the children who otherwise may not be able to go to school, but also for the state. The pupils are not the only ones who learn in the schoolroom. The teacher also gains knowledge of human nature—that is valuable in any kind of life-work he or she may later choose to follow.

The Vital Question

The tragic airplane crash and explosion which snuffed out 21 young Canadian lives at Kelowna, B.C., last week, has not only requires desperately to be explained fully to a shocked public.

This, the second most serious aviation accident in Canadian history, where a transport plane carrying a group of RCAF personnel nose-dived into a landing strip and burst into flames, appears almost incredible even though the elevator locking device had not been removed.

The pilot, presumably, was capable and experienced. The landing field had been in use for years, formerly by the Service Flying Training School Number 38, and latterly by the Number 4 Equipment Hattery.

Why, then, should such a curious and almost inexplicable accident occur? The news report mentions no fact that may afford the key to the entire tragedy. It says that the approach to the landing strip was made over a ravine which caused such a downdraft of air that many crashes and some fatalities among student airmen occurred there during the war. So notorious did it become that the crashers were said to have caused that it was nicknamed and known far and wide as "Death Alley."

In the investigation that will follow this shocking affair, one vital question must be asked:

If the proximity of this ravine to the landing strip created, in fact, a hazard for all machines using the landing strip, was the landing strip not moved to a safer position?

Why was it not moved to a safer position during the war when it apparently endangered the lives of student fliers? Why were 21 valuable and expert young airmen, about to engage in important job, permitted to attempt a landing in an area with such a sinister history?

The Canadian public will want to know more about that.

Death for Nazis

Mr. George Bernard Shaw has written a letter for The Daily Express, London, wherein he expresses the opinion that the military courts at Nuremberg have "no right" to impose the death penalty. No doubt GBS has reached this conclusion by his typical, well-calculated processes of reasoning, but to engage in important job, permitted to attempt a landing in an area with such a sinister history?

It yet raises the question: has any court the "right" to put any man or woman to death? Has the State—or its international counterpart—the right to impose the death penalty? Or is it a right to take a life for a life? Or even a life for a dozen or a hundred lives?

They are entitled to an attentive hearing in the last century. When they are caused to be taken, a score or a hundred lives the penalty of his own life still does not prove the purpose of justice. Nor is it not the purpose of justice. Nor is it not the purpose of justice. Nor is it not the purpose of justice.

But even at this level of temporal, mundane things more and more people do not regard the establishment, as this century and age enter their final stage, as a relic of an eye-for-an-eye day.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1886: 60 Years Ago
Vancouver, the proposed terminus of the CPR is beginning to loom up as one of the most important cities in the West. It is remembered that, by act of parliament, Port Moody, at the time of the first meeting of the terminus of the road. With this understanding property changed hands at fabulous prices, not on the basis of intrinsic value but because the terminus was to be located there. Afterwards inducement was held out by certain speculators to the CPR company to extend the line along the shore of Burrard Inlet to Vancouver and make that place the terminus of the line. The strength of the arrangement then made Vancouver property sold at fabulous prices. At this time Port Moody appeared to be the terminus. However, it appears from a decision of the CPR Board of British Columbia that the CPR cannot make the proposed extension to Vancouver and must allow Port Moody to remain the terminus. The CPR is to be constructed to Port Moody, and the CPR has asked the Vancouver extension to be constructed to Port Moody, and the project of railway expansion will die and Vancouver will be disappointed.

J. Edmondson, A. Costello, G. J. Russell, F. Murphy, J. Secord, L. Schuck and J. Shady are among the names of the men who have taken the Hudson Bay and Pacific railway bill has passed the committee stage. Mr. Lobell said in the House that the cost of a 20-knot Atlantic service would be too great to make the service a reality.

Latest Dominion election returns give Liberals, Mr. Mackenzie King, a majority of 10. The Liberals will vote at the coming election on a by-law to spend $80,000 on a new sedimentation plant for the city of Edmonton.

1936: 10 Years Ago
Because he "sensed his outspoken criticism of the Social Credit movement" was not acceptable to a constituency of the Conservative Party, the Manitoba election in 1936, his resignation, James A. McKinnon, MP for West Edmonton, resigned his seat in the House of Commons.

LONDON—Lovers of liberty everywhere will rejoice to hear that the United States has decided to invite King George of the Hellenes to visit the United States and Spain was driven in 1941 by the German invaders.

Without order there can be no freedom. Though freedom, in many parts of the world, is compatible with republican government, nearly all impartial observers believe that the United States is not a monarchy is indispensable also to order and to freedom.

Shall we people are inclined to think that a republican form of government is more compatible with liberty than a monarchy? There is very little support such as the United States.

FRANCE, Germany, Italy, Spain, the Netherlands, Belgium, Switzerland, and the United States are among the nations of Western civilization, whatever temporary aberrations may have overcome the United States, as is Great Britain or the United States. They have been, indeed, in the past, the most liberal of nations.

They have been undone by the integration of Europe since the eighteenth century into national sovereign states who have progressively destroyed the economic and cultural unity previously existing for centuries.

The rise of the national state compartmentalizing Europe within its narrow iron boundaries has been a disaster. It has led to the present situation, leading to the present situation, leading to the present situation.

When ceilings were removed in the United States beef cattle sold for as high as $20 a hundredweight. In Canada the price is around 12 pounds and other food products are at a similar rate. Labor in the United States has been paid more than in Canada.

The Dominion government has arranged that farmers shall not get less than $123 a bushel for their wheat for the next four years. It has arranged for those who are not farmers to get the same price as farmers. We are not witnessing a farm produce in prices such as occurred after the end of the last war.

No one can say that farmers, as a whole, are not in good shape financially. The small farmer is not making much money, but if they get substantial price rises, the big farmers in Southern Alberta will make a killing therefrom because they own the land.

Although I am in complete sympathy with the desire of union leaders to obtain a new standard of living and increased security for the workers of the world, I cannot follow them in their reasoning. They claim that by obtaining a higher standard of living they will increase the national income, which will increase the national income, which will increase the national income.

Looking at it that way it sounds logical. But the great bulk of the population is not the workers of the world. The great bulk of the population is not the workers of the world. The great bulk of the population is not the workers of the world.

NO MORE CHURCH PARADES
The Guards' Star (Ottawa)
The compulsory church parade which most of us remember as a sore spot is soon to be abolished by the British Army. In its place there will be an extension of the informal parade and the retention of the right to order such parades on special occasions only.

THE PACE HORN, introduced in the last year of the war, found favor with officers. Informal, it allowed the troops to march to the music of their own choice. It was a discussion in the topic with the result that when the war was up it had a firm hold on the troops' minds. The results from the invasions extended for years. The troops were always beneficial and enlightening. It may be that the British Army will adopt a similar policy.

See Return of de Gaulle; France Said in Critical Time

PARIS, (AP)—Indications multiply Monday that Gen. de Gaulle plans a return to the political arena during the coming weeks, when elections between the two camps for France and western Europe. Gen. de Gaulle's return would be connected with the October referendum on the new constitution for the fourth republic, which the provisional government in France is expected to call.

It appears fairly certain Gen. de Gaulle will be at the head of the opposition to the proposed charter, which he believes is a step backward. He reserves most of the power of government to one legislative body.

Caught in the middle of these manoeuvres is President Georges Bidault's Movement, Republican Popular party, which appears undecided whether to vote the constitution.

Case of Alarm
Indicates say Gen. de Gaulle also may endorse candidates who support his constitutional ideas in the elections that will follow the referendum.

More Frenchmen than in one more case of alarm amidst a flood of confused and unfounded rumors: Civil war will break out in France if the present constitution is accepted.

It will break out if it is not accepted.

Parliamentary chaos runs rampant in France, where the political situation is so confused that it is hard to see what food they can get to be ready for the trouble.

May Head New Group
Should Gen. de Gaulle appear up in behalf of certain political candidates, it would appear a fact accepted by the former education minister, René Capitant.

The "Gaullist union," which described itself as "not a political party," frankly admits lobbying in the constitution, and has said it will not accept the new constitution if the elections of the charter is accepted.

Forward only a few weeks ago the union has already made such progress that the Communists have publicly asked the Socialists to join in a common battle "to thwart the aggressions and threats of Capitant aimed at preventing the advent of a republican constitution."

Double Protection At Low Cost

The Continental Life Double Protection Policy is the desirable plan for the young married man. For the same low annual premium throughout the life of the policy it gives your family double the protection during the years when your income is lowest and protection is needed most. It can mature as an endowment to add to your financial independence.

So in addition to the many years of low-cost protection afforded, there is the endowment feature—substantial profit and increasing cash value. Ask your local Life Representative about the Double Protection Policy today.

T. C. A. to Operate West Coast Flights

VANCOUVER—Opening of a full Trans-Canada Airlines service between Vancouver and Victoria, B.C., with eight round trips daily in addition to flights on the transcontinental route, was announced here by H. J. Dymally, president of the T. C. A.

He also announced the opening Nov. 1, with three round trips daily, of a new international service between Victoria and Seattle.

The line would use 21-coupled DC-3 planes on these services, he said.

He said the lamb was a gift from his mother, who said she was returning home by himself. "A risky sort of a thing for the lamb to be doing these days with the cost of living such as it is."

U. S. Public Backs Byrnes Keeping Troops in Europe

By American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON—Secretary of State Byrnes' warning at Stuttgart that the United States was not going to "pull out" of Germany or Europe has solid support from American public opinion.

A coast-to-coast poll by the institute completed shortly after the Stuttgart speech showed that 80 per cent of the country's voters felt it was best to keep our troops in Germany and Europe.

Observers varied in foreign affairs said the poll result was not surprising. "The public has been conditioned by the news of the last few years to believe that the United States should stay in Europe," they said.

Black Lamb Follows Him to School

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike of musicians in New York City clubs was averted Saturday when the night spot was accepted to union demands of a 20-per-cent wage increase and other contract changes.

The strike would have caused a loss of $100,000 in the after-dark entertainment places, according to the night spot.

In addition to the 20-per-cent increase, the musicians' union, which were getting $84.00 a week for their work, demanded a 10-per-cent increase and a 10-per-cent increase in overtime pay.

Russia Opposes Plan for Refugees

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Russia served notice Saturday that it would not accept a plan for refugees plan which provided for compulsory contributions to finance the transportation of displaced persons outside their native countries.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai Petrov rejected the principle of compulsory contributions during a debate in the United Nations economic and social council on the question of setting up an international refugee organization.

Under a draft financial plan submitted to the council, each country which refused the contribution of the proposed organization would be asked to make whatever contributions were assigned to it in the plan.

Mr. Petrov said a large number of the 100,000 in displaced persons camps in Europe were those who did not wish to go to their original homes because of political conditions.

He said the United States government who refused to return either the camps or the refugees, or have lived abroad for many years campaigning against their governments.

British delegate Sir Girja Shanks-Bhagat said the United States government would have to accept the principle of compulsory contributions.

He said India already had contributed $100,000 to the fund, and hundreds of thousands of Indians died from famine and had suffered all the horrors of war.

INTRODUCING EATON'S Junior Fashion Council

“We’re ‘proud as punch’ to present... EATON’S JUNIOR FASHION COUNCIL. It’s a new executive of 14 young women chosen from the Edmonton High Schools and the University of Alberta undergraduate years.

EATON’S JUNIOR FASHION COUNCIL as well as having a voice in the fashion merchandising ... through it’s conference with store buyers ... the members will receive reciprocal benefits by talks on grooming, style, color, design and other interesting topics.

The Councilors will answer questionnaires ... how long sweaters should be, what kind of footwear and so forth, which serve as guides to EATON merchandisers. THE EATON JUNIOR FASHION COUNCIL recommends and tags, favored fashions with the slogan, “We Like This.”
